Email

Can I set-up more than one email forwarding?

Yes, you can configure as many individual email forwarders as needed (within reason) for your domain name. Each email address can forward to one separate destination address.

Wildcard forwarders are not supported; each forwarder must be configured as a separate address.

If you want to forward to more than one destination email address per forwarder, you will need to purchase an email hosting plan. This can be acheived from a mailbox and not a forwarder.
